The Delaware Valley Pug Rescue (DVPR) makes every attempt to ensure that the pug you adopt is up-to-date with shots (DHLP, rabies, parvo, corona) and has been spayed/neutered. To help us continue our charitable work, we have an adoption fee ranging from $50 up to $500 depending upon the age and health of the pug. DVPR is a 501C(3) non-profit group of volunteers who donate services, money, and time to help find responsible owners with suitable, permanent homes for the pugs that we rescue.

Important Information (Please read and initial)

Adopters must display an extremely high level of commitment and accept responsibility for the life of the adopted pug. The average lifespan of a pug is estimated at 16 to 18 years of age, however there are no guarantees. The Delaware Valley Pug Rescue (DVPR) reserves the right to follow-up on any individual or family that adopts a pug: prospective owners will be asked to sign a separate adoption agreement at the time of adoption.

Adopter(s) and prospective adopters release and hold harmless the DVPR and its representatives from any and all costs, expenses, damages, or liabilities arising from the conduct of our rescue dogs. Adopter(s) and prospective adopters hereby voluntarily and expressly release and waive any and all claims or causes of action which Adopter(s) may have now or in the future regarding a rescue dog(s) against DVPR, its representatives, successors, assigns, agents, and attorneys. _____ (Initial(s))
